Description

Viewpoint of the promenade 41 walk. It is located about 150 meters away from the road. We reach it after we have passed a building with an ancient oven, long the path that leads to the ford of La Voye d'Yvois.

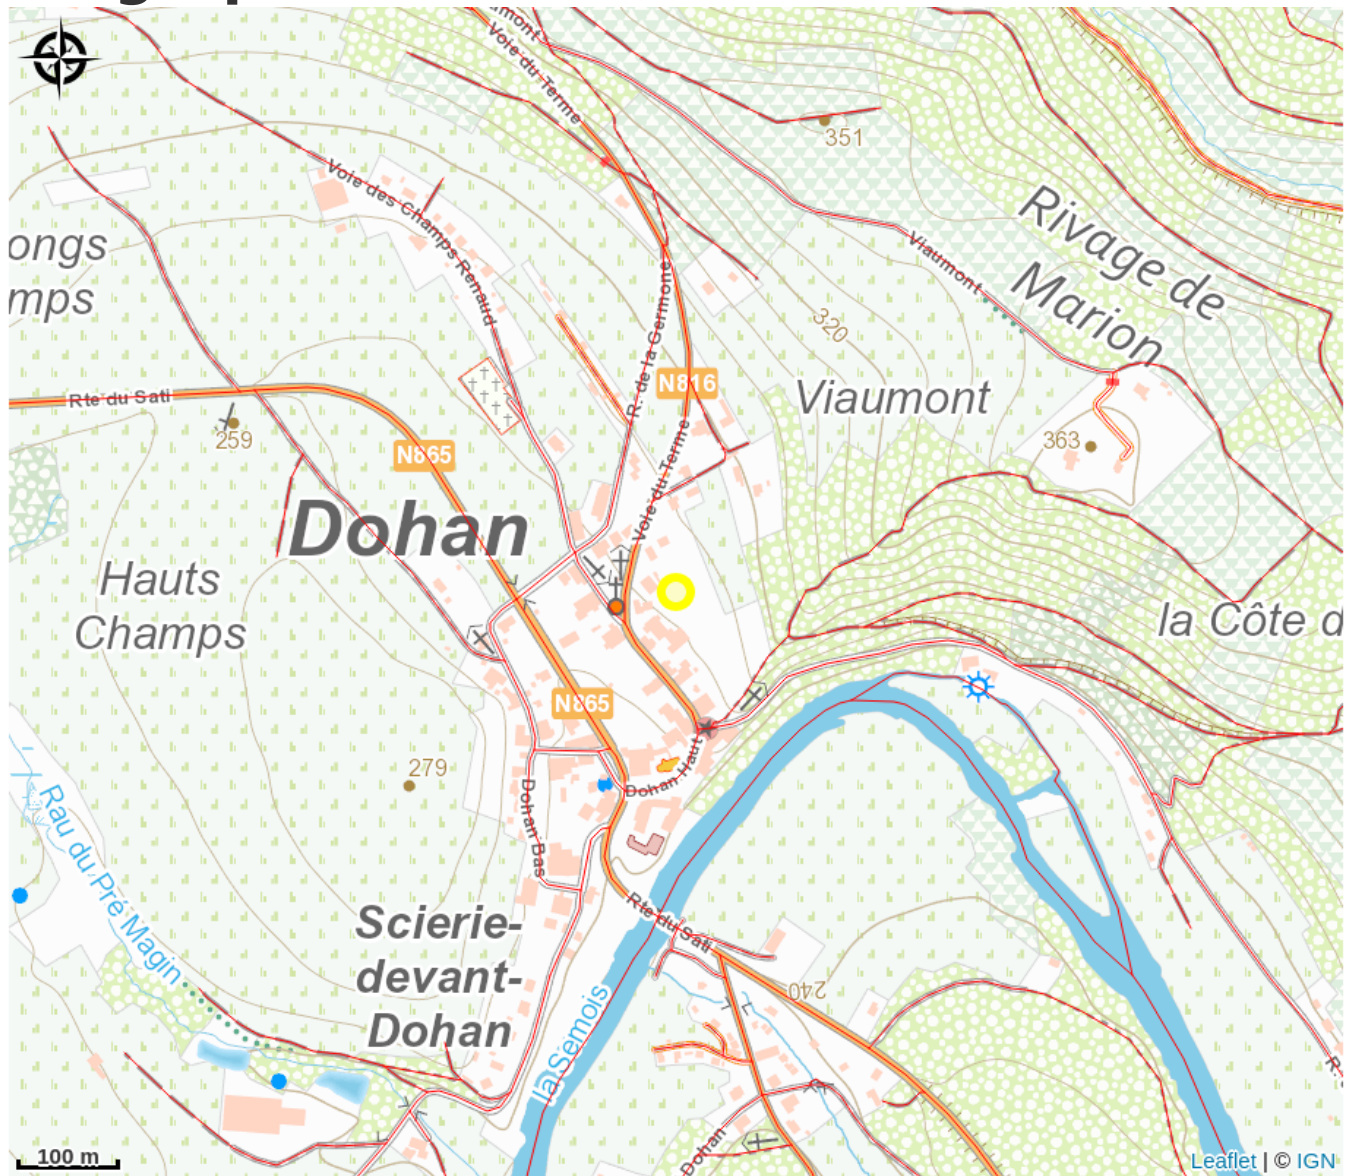

We are 650 meters away from the Dohan bridge and 50 meters over the river. Down, the rivers makes an island that used to be scythed and that begins to be covered with a shrubby vegetation.

As they prevent the outlet of water in case of rise of water level, these small shrubs hold back the swept along vegetation when the river is high with logjams for consequences. They caused the divide of the island in two parts
