

Medieval city of Bouillon

Attribution : (FTLB-PWillems)

Useful information

Category : Discovery and recreation

Rating : No rating

Description

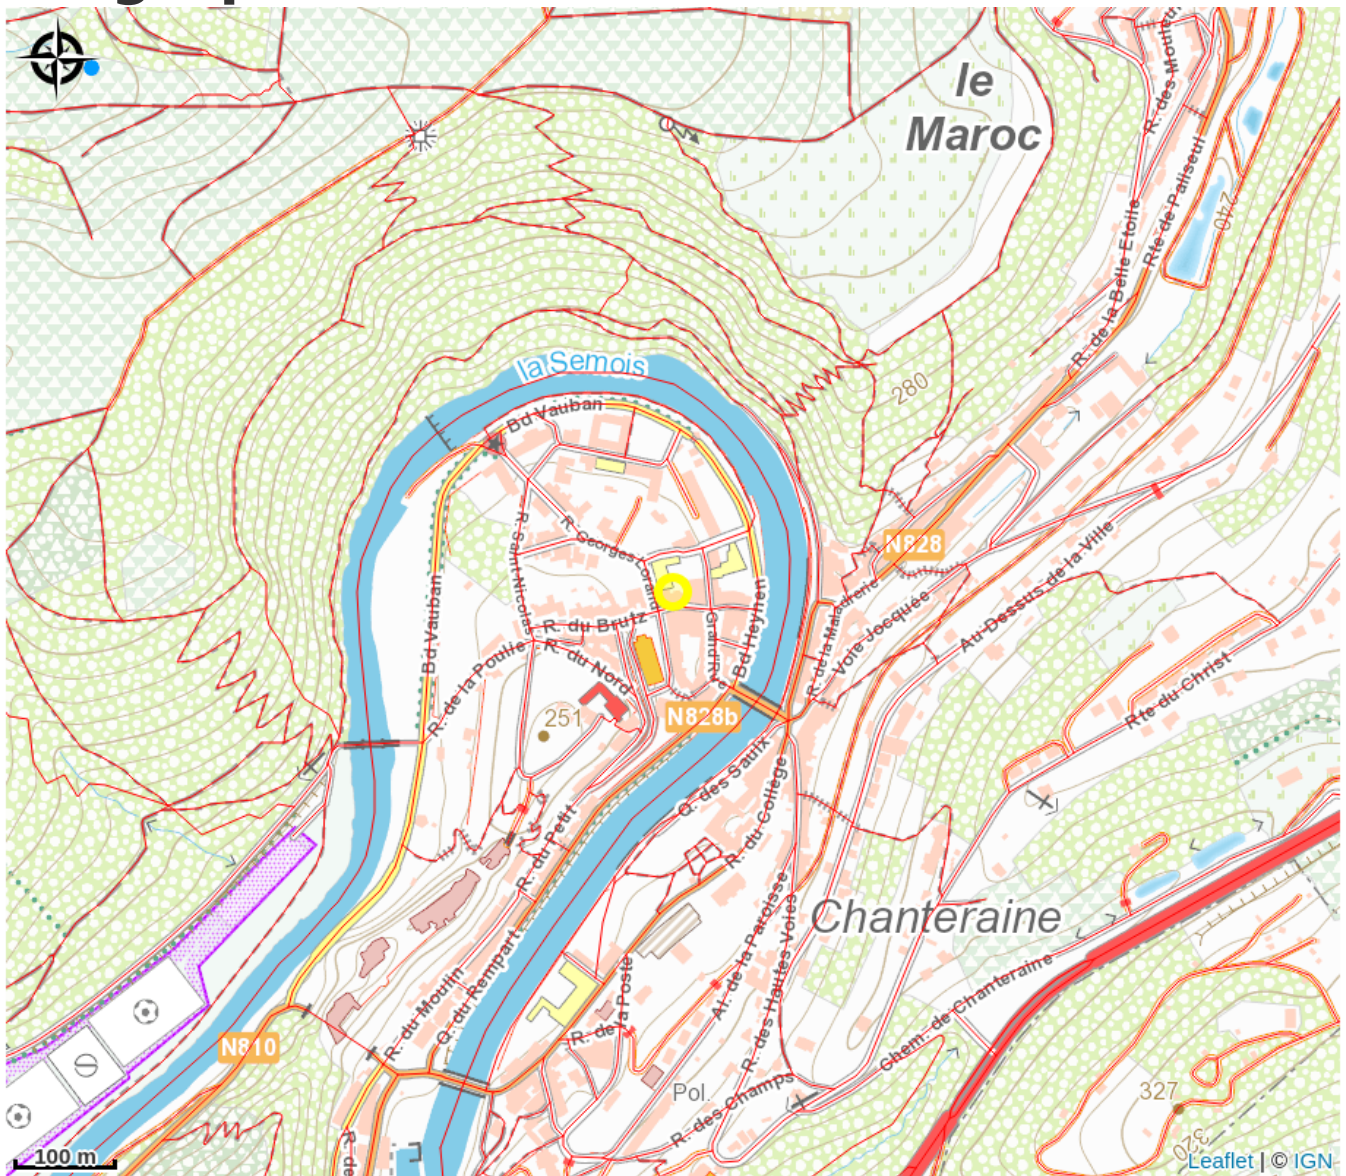

Nicknamed the "Pearl of the Semois", Bouillon is, without doubt, the largest and most attractive tourist centre in the Semois valley. Its perfectly-preserved mediaeval castle continues to watch over the River Semois, which flows around its walls. Miles of waymarked footpaths invite visitors to discover the surrounding hills and countryside. panoramic views can be enjoyed from the Belvédère and Ramonette viewpoints.

Guided walks in English are available by prior reservation. High wooded hills, among which one is topped by the Belvedere surround the most ancient feudal remains of Belgium.

Discovery categories

Built heritage, District/Village/Town.

Geographical location

All useful information

Contact

6830 - Bouillon